

Glenellen Farm Ltd

Oxford, North Canterbury.

Glenellen Farm is situated 10kms out of Oxford in North Canterbury.

Late in 2011 we engaged Rural Building Solutions to build a 60 bale rotary dairy shed for the milking season starting July 2012 .As they are a local business we heard about them mainly through talking to other dairy farmers.

Working with Nigel Hodges as project manager/director of Rural Building Solutions combined with the onsite manager and team proved to work extremely well and any minor issues were dealt with professionally and efficiently. The sub-contractors were managed smoothly and have done a good quality job.

We feel the project of building our dairy shed has gone very well, this is not to say there were no hitches along the way but more importantly to impress how well any hitches were managed.

We would definitely feel confident to recommend Rural Building Solutions to anyone looking at building a new dairy shed.

Overall we are very pleased with the design and quality of our shed and we found Nigel and his team to be really friendly and approachable and made the experience exciting to be a part of.
